On May 31st the Advance Denver Zephyrs linked Chicago and Denver for the first time with high-speed overnight service . . . and quickly demonstrated their remarkable faculty for getting places in a hurry, on time. Running on a startling 16-hour schedule at an average speed of 65 miles an hour, the Denver Zephyrs have slashed almost 12 hours from the previous Westbound time . . . nearly 10 hours, Eastbound . . . and have made it entirely feasible to "week end 1000 miles away." Today (October 9th) with over 271,000 miles behind them, their on-time performance is almost 98 per cent perfect.
